

SUMMER IS THE BEST SEASON

By Lila Wilkinson

Slip, slop slap! You guessed it! Hang on! Steve Smith just hit a six. Yeah! It's Summer time! The best time of the year! Your hair gets lighter, your skin tans, the water gets warmer and the days get so much better. Yeah! I'll tell you summer is so fun! You're on holidays. It's hot. You can sit outside and watch the cricket with a cold drink. It's just so good because winter is so cold, in autumn the town looks bad from all the leaves falling off the tree and spring just isn't up to summer standards.

Summer's so good! You get the barbecue out and the snags straight on. While you're waiting you pop open a few bags of good old Australian shapes. At the same time you're sitting outside watching David Warner go Wack! and watching Mitchell Johnstone have a good old stare at Joe Root. Now surely you know that can't happen in the other few months. Yeah that's right only in summer. In winter there's footy on. Yeah that's fun! You see though it's not as relaxing because it's so cold, windy and rainy. I have told you and I'll tell you again winter, autumn and spring aren't up to summer's standards.

COUGH COUGH! SNORT SNORT! You guessed it! I've got a cold! Yes, yes! Its winter leading into Autumn, and I am sick from the cold air and being out in the wet and cold. If you're wondering why I am in the wet and cold, I go to school and play sport after school. This cold stops me from doing so many things. When I'm in bed I can't get a good night's sleep because I keep waking up coughing. At the moment, I am sitting on the couch unwrapping butter menthols when I could be outside enjoying myself. Also I can make so many other people sick too. At the moment my friends are in bed snoring "ZZZZ!" because I have made them sick. See this wouldn't happen in summer. The only thing you can catch is a good old wave.

Hey can you hear that? Yeah it's a jingle. That's right! The fella in the big red suit is on his way. Yep you guessed! It's Santa, and Christmas is smack bang in the middle of summer. You little ripper! That can only mean one thing, new flip flops, a boogie board and Ssssssss! the sausages are cooking and I've got a new barbecue as well.

I have just told you summer is the best season because you can do so many more fun things than you can in the other seasons. Summer is the best season to look forward to and is packed full of fun.
